Cooking Odors

A large, shallow metal pot is filled with a thick, yellow, textured substance, likely a food product. Two long metal spoons are positioned inside the pot, one on the left and one on the right, as if stirring or mixing the contents. A thick plume of white steam rises from the pot, partially obscuring the top right corner. The pot is set on a dark, textured surface, possibly a brick or stone stove. The overall scene suggests a traditional cooking process.
